CONSTRUCTION IS MOVING on the West Tech Center at Hooker Highway and SR 715, as can be seen from a vantage point 300 feet above the site. School officials say construction being done by two contractors is on schedule and the foundation has been poured for the administration building, which will also house classrooms for nursing and cosmetology.

MICA TALKS to Belle Glade residents James Ball and Robert Hooker Monday during his swing through the Glades. The Congressional candidate talked politics with a crowd that afternoon at his Glades headquarters after spending the day touring the area.

Mica woos the Glades

BELLE GLADE — District 11 Congressional candidate, Dan Mica "pressed flesh" with an estimated 200-300 voters in the Glades Monday, winding up the day with an open house at his headquarters.

The candidate told supporters during a noon luncheon at the Holiday Inn he wasn't at that particular meeting to make another campaign speech but to thank them for their help so far.

"We've tried to run a positive campaign," he said. "We've had too much negativism in politics."

He said he was running, "like I'm one vote behind" when someone asked him how he felt the campaign was going, "but I'd like to have the election today instead of seven days from now. Anything can happen between now and then."

While meeting the voters, Mica reiterated his "positive campaign" pledges and stands, saying he isn't a "one-issue candidate."

He said one of his jobs as an aide to Paul Rogers was to meet and talk with businessmen who were thinking about relocating to South Florida. He said one of the first things each of those businessmen asked him was what kind of schools were available, pointing out that was one thing he would work on from the federal level but the prime responsibility must be met at the county level.

Mica said he has been campaigning 12 to 17 hours a day, seven days a week for the past 12 weeks.

Mica began his day at 9 a.m. touring Bryant Sugar Mill at Canal Point and Pahokee with Elisha Beines and Mayor Duncan Padgett. Leaving Pahokee, he visited Palm Beach Junior College-Glades, touring the facility with trustee Billy Hand, met with supporters for a luncheon, went through Glades General Hospital with Dr. Luis Guerrero and toured the downtown area and the Glades Plaza, meeting and talking to shoppers before attending the open house.

He said that while no one is forced into a casino, everyone sales taxes are raised everyone involuntarily pays.

The Rev. Robert Atkins, minister of the First Baptist Church in Belle Glade, spoke to the club on Oct. 26, and offered the opposing view. Atkins said that not only is legalized gambling a moral issue, but it breaks two and possibly four of the Ten Commandments.

He also said that he believes it is really not going to do the economy that much good. Property taxes will be increased, because of all the improvements made on the lands surrounding the casinos and the people who are going to suffer the most are the poor and the elderly.

These people, he said, are going to be forced out of their homes by land improvements because their low-cost housing will be the first to go for these improvements.

Heidman said there is no way organized crime can become involved in legalized gambling, and Atkins said he believes they are involved in the issue at this very moment even before it has been voted on, much less put into practice.

The Kiwanis Club of the Glades adopted a resolution opposing the new County Charter which has since been adopted by various other Service Clubs in Belle Glade.

Friends of agriculture speak to the issues

BELLE GLADE — State senate District 26 candidate Harry Johnston II and state representative District 81 candidate Ed Healey, both incumbents, were apparently able to clear up some misunderstandings on their stance toward agriculture Tuesday morning.

Johnston and Healey were the guests of honor at a 7 a.m. Friends of Agriculture breakfast at the Holiday Inn, sponsored by the Western Palm Beach County Farm Bureau, and spoke at length on campaign issues.

The two legislators said that in every vote critical for agriculture, they've gone along with agricultural interests.

"You can get a representative from the Glades in the next reappointment," Johnston said, in a discussion of single-member districts. "He'll have to drive all the way around the Lake, and I feel sorry for the man who gets it but you can get him."

He said it would require a district made up of all Hendry and Glades Counties and Palm Beach County west of 20 Mile Bend to make up the necessary 80,000 population, should a single-member district be desirable to Glades residents.

"Right now," he said, "you have strong representation, possibly the strongest delegation in the state. You have six representatives and three senators."

Healey went on to point out that, to his knowledge, in the case of single member district legislatures, the representatives tend to be so parochial they fail to get much done.

Both Healey and Johnston told the farmers at the breakfast they need the input of voters in their

Gambling is argued

BELLE GLADE—The Belle Glade Kiwanis Club had the opportunity, over the past two weeks, to hear two opposing views on legalized gambling on the Gold Coast.

William Heidman, former sheriff of Palm Beach County spoke to the club on Oct. 19. Heidman, who is one of the leading proponents of legalized gambling stated that the issue is not a moral one, and that legalized casino gambling would be beneficial to the state economy and would help to keep down taxes.

He said that while no one is forced into a casino, everyone sales taxes are raised everyone involuntarily pays.

The Rev. Robert Atkins, minister of the First Baptist Church in Belle Glade, spoke to the club on Oct. 26, and offered the opposing view. Atkins said that not only is legalized gambling a moral issue, but it breaks two and possibly four of the Ten Commandments.

FRIENDS OF AGRICULTURE Harry Johnston II (standing) and Ed Healey (at Johnston's left) breakfasted with a number of Glades growers and agri-businessmen

Tuesday morning before beginning day-long campaigning in the Glades. Listening are E.W. "Bud" Weaver (far left) and Gene Badger.

We had a letter last week from Mrs. Helen Voerge of Lake Harbor that took issue with a picture published in another paper of a woman who killed a bear on a recent hunting trip out west.

Mrs. Voerge said she feels to glorify the killing of an innocent bear "indicates the joy that distorted persons experience in mercilessly murdering."

Mrs. Voerge's opinion is welcome and we will certainly allow her to use our newspaper to voice that opinion. But I feel that she may not be aware of how important a role people who hunt play in wildlife conservation.

So just to get it off my chest...and because I am a hunter...and because hunting season is opening and many people in this area hunt...I thought I would pass along some of my observations about the sport and its contributions.

There are some 20 million people in the United States who are licensed sportsmen. The money they pay in licenses and fees, along with a ten percent tax on sporting firearms and ammunition, about pays the cost of game protection and management programs in this country. (This year my bill for licenses alone comes to $35.50.)

But this fee does not protect merely game animals. Such birds as field lark are just as protected by game wardens as are quail, though they are of no value to sportsmen while the quail is of great value.

The key to animal survival is suitable habitat. Even with hunting, if the animals have a place to live, they will thrive. Such is the case just south of Lake Harbor at the Rotenberger Wildlife Management Area. The habitat is so good for deer there that they have multiplied to the point where they now are literally eating themselves out of a home.

Wildlife managers at Rotenberger are faced with one or two choices: Either allow a greater harvest of deer by hunters, including does, or allow the does to die "naturally" through disease and starvation.

Neither of the latter two alternatives are pretty ones. This year I know of one deer that was so weak it allowed itself to be caught by a couple of hunters who took it to Clewiston and turned it over to biologists.

The deer, I heard, was infested with internal parasites and was dying a slow, cruel death. During the recent archery and muskloading season in that area, I found several dead deer who had apparently died of the same thing.

If the excess deer in Rotenberger are not controlled by hunting, the die-off that will result will be beneficial to neither man nor animal. It's said, but the lone predator left in this state to control big game populations are hunters.

And where are the other predators? The wolves? The panthers? The bears? There's just not enough room for them anymore. People occupy the spaces they once held.

But if none of these people hunted, the land that is still available for deer and bobcat and quail and mockingbirds might not be allowed to remain in a wild or semi-wild state. There would be no need for wildlife habitat. And hunters are the primary contributors for this habitat protection.

In any group of 20 million people, Mrs. Voerge, you will find some who are thoughtful and lawful. No group that large is without its slobs, no matter if it's garden clubs or gamblers, we are talking about.

Unfortunately, among hunters there are slobs. But for the most part, we are simply men and

Two revisions are worthwhile

A lot has been said over the past few months about whether or not the citizens of Florida should allow a strip of the Gold Coast to be set aside for casino gambling, with arguments running hot and heavy for and against Proposition 9.

But if a lot of people are familiar with Proposition 9, there are eight other propositions which will also be on the ballot and all nine will change the state constitution in one way or another.

Here are our recommendations for what they're worth, but the best advice we can pass along is, if you're not sure about a constitutional amendment, vote against it. You can't make matters any worse that way.

PROPOSITION 1 is called the "catch all" or omnibus revision, containing more than 57 changes to a total of ten articles in the state constitution...and that's its downfall.

While a number of the revisions would remove bad or add good sections to the constitution, there are others which would add bad or remove good language. The trouble is that the bad outweighs the good changes.

Vote NO on Proposition 1.

PROPOSITION 2 is called the Little ERA. It adds the word "sex" to the list of characteristics which may not be used as bases for depriving persons of any right.

The trouble with Proposition 2 is that it is redundant and leaves entirely too much interpretation up to judges. There are already state and federal statutes protecting the rights of women and we're all for those.

On the other hand, there are any number of possibilities which could arise by passage of this revision we could argue with, including the adoption of children by married homosexual couples.

Could it happen? Again, only judges who test cases might be brought before could answer that...and some of those judges don't have the best track record in the world when it comes to applying common sense.

Vote NO on Proposition Two!

PROPOSITION 3 requires single-member districts and establishes a commission to prepare a reapportionment plan for legislative and congressional districts.

On the negative side of this proposition is the fact we in the Glades, along with the rest of Palm Beach County, would lose the clout of having several legislators in the state senate and house of representatives.

Outweighing that factor, however, is the advantage of having a single representative and a single senator who see Propositions P.7

Our recommendations

When it comes to endorsing candidates for the Nov. 7 general election, there were some easy picks and some hard ones. Luckily for the voter, some of the hardest choices to make will be because both the candidates running for the office are qualified and they'll probably win no matter which way they go.

U.S. CONGRESS DISTRICT 11 was probably the hardest choice of all those featuring two qualified candidates. Neither Dan Mica nor Bill James are lacking when it comes to integrity and experience. Mica has the edge in experience in Washington and James has the experience of being the legislator, and an effective one, himself.

Without a doubt, James is the more forceful orator, a fact recognized by the wards he has received for being an effective debater and legislator over the last 12 years he has served in Tallahassee, the last few as minority leader in the house of representatives.

The difference in experience offered by the two, however, is that while James has been moving in the state arena, Mica has been working with his mentor, Paul Rogers, both in the entire 11th District and in Washington.

He has the benefit of ten years of tutelage under one of the most effective members of the U.S. House of Representatives and it shows. He's been privy to an office system so effective in dealing with constituent problems it was copied by James for his state legislature seat.

Through Rogers, Mica has already established contacts in Congress, an edge not to be ignored. As we said, it's a tough decision. Both candidates are attractive and the voters can only win in this race but we have to endorse DAN MICA.

GOVERNOR: This is another race which offers two attractive candidates, with drug store magnate Jack Eckerd facing off against State Senator Bob Graham.

Eckerd's success as a businessman and head of the U.S. General Services Administration offers evidence he knows how to handle money, something badly needed by Florida.

On the other hand, millionaire developer, rancher, and dairyman Bob Graham also obviously has what it takes to deal with large amounts of money and he has the bonus experience of serving 12 years in the state legislature, four years in the house and another eight in the senate.

It's that experience in the state milieu that we feel gives Bob Graham the edge. Whoever is elected, the governor is going to have to work with the state legislature and Graham should be able to do that.

Besides, as Eckerd said when he was here, one of his platform planks is that he has the ability to surround himself with effective aides. That also argues the ability to surround one's self with good people in other areas and there probably isn't a voter in Belle Glade who isn't aware of the caliber of Eckerd's running mate and Mrs. Hawkins' ability to keep promises.

We have to go with BOB GRAHAM.

SECRETARY OF STATE: We picked ANDER CRENshaw, the young Republican candidate from Jacksonville, to fill Bruce Smathers' seat. Crenshaw is fiscally conservative, something his opponent, George Firestone, isn't exactly noted for.

INSURANCE COMMISSIONER: BILL GUNTER is the choice here. He has the experience and, from where we're sitting, has done an admirable job over the past four

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

Hi. Looky, hi, looky, whaddya think we got here. Well, what we got Friday was something: I've covered before for news stories—but that was the first time I ever got personally involved in an election.

And I'll have to admit, even if spending money has never seemed like too much fun, this was a ball...maybe because it wasn't my money I was spending.

Matter of fact, after Friday, it's easy to see how a politician can so easily spend the taxpayer's money...even if you make a savings.

After all, like the man said, there ain't no such thing as a bargain if you don't need the thing you're buying at a cut-rate price.

Had to really bear down on myself to keep from bidding on a fire truck that went for the grand total of $5 but I did and, in the cold light of Saturday's dawn, I was glad I did.

I can just imagine the look on Jennie's face if someone towed a fire truck into my trailer parking lot Saturday morning. And towed it would be. That truck's engine had coughed its last after a water pump had been slowed into it.

But the fire truck would've at least gone for the right price. Coulda had that dude for $10, I believe. On the other hand, the garbage packer went for considerable more than that. And something tells me the neighbors would've raised Holy Hecto if I'd pulled a garbage packer into the drive.

One thing about it, though. The garbage men wouldn't have had to make pickups at my place too often. Not me at least. I see the dog that could tip it over.

But what I went after was typewriters and what I got was typewriters. Some of the best buys on typewriters I ever saw. Would you believe $6 for one in good shape? How about a $1 typing table?

Could've had a darkroom enlarger for a dollar too. Only thing wrong with that is we already got an enlarger and it's hard to use two the same dark room at the same time. Not me at least. I'm just not a two-gun Pete.

But wouldja believe they didn't sell a single one of the fire hydrants by themselves?

Had a group of 'em but Bert Ward auctioned all of 'em off to the same person along with a pile of other scrap metal. Had all kinds of neat looking valves and whatever in the pile too. Even had some rusted out swimming pool filters that were at Lakeshore pool at one time.

I figured that with the rising interest in whirlpool baths and community baths and whatever, somebody could cut those in half and work something up for today's modern bathtub but I guess that wasn't the case.

With the crowd on hand, a body woulda thought the cars on hand woulda gone like hot cakes but none did. What the hey, just because there didn't seem to be a single one of 'em that could be called rolling stock, that's a poor reason not to buy a couple.

You could always park one out in the back yard for the kids to marvel over and get behind the wheel and go "Vro-o-o-o-o!" with it.

The first one out of the chute set the tone though. Bert set up his speaker on the sagging front fender of a Valiant with two flats in front, along with what looked to be a pair of broken springs and a six cylinder engine (three under the hood and three in the trunk).

"I'm not even going to call this a previously owned car," Bert said as he started the spiel, looking over the dejected old Plymouth product. "I'm gonna call it a used car...and I suppose we oughta be thankful the city gets this much use out of a car."

And the Valiant just seemed to sit a little more when Bert couldn't get the first bid on it. There for a minute, I thought the thing even gave an utterly forlorn and rejected sigh but it was the last time going flat.

I mean, after all, machines don't have feelings...do they?

I coulda sworn that little car just knew it was headed for that great junk yard in the sky. Just another candidate for Sanford & Son.

Still, that night after it was all over, the little Valiant came back to mind...and it sure woulda been fun to have my own $5 fire truck.

Many good organizations are working with our youngsters, developing an interest in other lands and the ones who dwell there. The church through God's word also teaches us about our neighbors and what our attitude should be toward them. The earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

BELLE GLADE—Miss Margaret Bly Hoover of Vero Beach, became the bride of Earl Jeffery Lindrose of Belle Glade, Aug. 26, in a double ring ceremony at the Community United Methodist Church with the Rev. Guldmar Blair officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Edward B. Hoover of Brandon, Miss. and Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Lindrose of Belle Glade.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white qiana floor length dress with a train built in to the skirt. The dress was Victorian Style with covered buttons on the cuffs and from the empire waist to the high neckline. The veil was fingertip length lace, applied with seed pearls.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade of yellow sweetheart roses, stephanotis, miniature white fiji mums with two white cattleya orchids and backed with variegated foliage.

The organist was Karen Corbin and the soloist was Milton Carpenter, who sang "Speak Softly Love", "If", and "The Lord's Prayer".

Mrs. Gerry Taylor of Vero Beach was the matron of honor. She wore a floorlength lime green qiana dress with a pleated top and sash. The bridesmaid's were Miss Pam Hoover of Brandon, Miss Zoe Hoover of Folsom, Calif. The bridesmaids carried nosegays of lemon yellow, miniature carnations, yellow fiji mums and yellow iceberg pom poms filled with baby's breath.

Miss Ginny Peters was the flowergirl and carried a basket filled with lemon yellow carnations, fiji mums and baby's breath. She wore a green knit dress with a light yellow pattern.

The groom's father was the best man and the ushers were David Goodlett of Belle Glade, and Merritt Taylor of Vero Beach.

Mrs. Marie Battle was in charge of the bride's book.

The church was decorated with one large foliage arrangement on the altar, with palms in front, foliage pew markers and spiral candelabra on each side of the altar.

A large fan arrangement of all green and variegated foliage with cross extended at center top and open Bible at base was placed on the communion table. On each side of the communion table were spiral candelabra with burning white tapers, and Lady palms completed the altar where vows were exchanged.

The pews were reserved with sprays of foliage, centered with a glanellia made of variegated foliage. The registry stand had a large foliage glanellia and bride's book.

The mother of the bride wore white cattleya orchids and foliage trim. The groom's mother carried a hand clutch corsage of foliage and white cattleya orchid.

The hostesses wore corsages of miniature carnations.

The bride's cake was four tiered, with a bride and groom on top and decorated with yellow roses. Mrs. Flo Jones, Mrs. Nancy Carpenter, Mrs. Hazel Snyder, and Mrs. Gene Cross, assisted with the serving. The couple went to Fort Myers Beach on their wedding trip, and they eventually will reside in the Glades.

The bride is a graduate of Brandon High School in Brandon, Miss. She attended Mississippi State University, where she studied pre veterinary medicine, and went on to graduate from Auburn University in 1976.

Royal-Wurth are wed

BELLE GLADE—Miss Susan Jane Royal became the bride of James E. Wurth of Boynton Beach, on Oct. 7, in a double ring ceremony at the Community United Methodist Church in Belle Glade, with the Rev. Guldmar Blair and the Rev. Gene Daggarhart of Sullivan's Island, S.C. officiating.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Royal of Belle Glade, and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wurth of Jupiter.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a traditional gown of ivory satin organza designed with a high neck and long, poet sleeves. Motifs of re-embroidered Algonquin lace embellished the bodice and sleeves and a deep band of lace formed a border around the hem. An A-line skirt fell from the empire waist and swept back into a chapel train. Her veil was fingertip mantilla trimmed in matching lace.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade style of white Japhet orchids, white Tommie orchids, string pearls, satin curls and dracena leaves.

Mrs. Conrad Fricke, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Leslie Amerine, Miss Patty Beck, Mrs. Roy Brostrand, Miss Doreen Darty, Mrs. James Hardwick, Mrs. Ed McAllister, and Mrs. Hal Wilson. The junior bridesmaid was Laura Wurth, daughter of the groom.

The bridesmaids wore dresses of rust jersey with gathered halter-line bodices, and soft, full hemlines. Capes of rust chiffon were worn over the dresses.

The groomsmen were Al Barbon, best man, Mike Royal, Jeff Royal and Chuck Royal, brothers of the bride, Tom Brandt, Bob Tait, Dave Cooper, and Al Richmond.

Mrs. Gene Daggarhart and Miss Patty Wood were in charge of the bride's book.

The bridesmaids had cascade bouquets of red rover mums, century lilies, fall bronze miniature pom pom mums, croton leaves and apricot and brown velvet ribbon with a sheaf of natural wheat.

The groomsmen wore Talisman roses and wheat boutonnières.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. George Royal, wore a mauve floor-length thiftion with white cattleya orchid. The groom's mother wore a peach floor-length chiffon dress with a yellow cattleya orchid.

The church was decorated with palms and candelabra. The choir loft was banked with lady palms and a 15 branch brass candelabra was centered beneath the stained glass window. To each side palms were used and ushers and bridesmaids took their places in the choir loft.

The communion table held a long fan arrangement of fall flowers, birds of paradise, yellow Fiji mums, red rover mums, all shades of bronze pom pom mums, and croton leaves. The cross extended above the arrangement with the open Bible at the base. Small candelabra garlanded with smilax stood on either side of the altar.

On the far sides of the platform were natural wicker stands holding giant frosted wicker baskets of fall arrangements matching the flowers on the communion table. The family pews were marked with brass standards and cascades of autumn flowers, croton leaves and smilax garlands. The narthex was also decorated with lady palms and small fall arrangements trimmed twin registry stands.

A reception was held at the Community Center. The buffet table was laid with floor length white linen cloths and centered with a large Edwardian style bouquet of fall flowers. On either end of the table stood large 13 branch brass candelabra garlanded with smilax and centered with an epergne arrangement of fall flowers.

The groom's cake was topped with boxed and smilax and topped with white doves enclosed the round table laid with a floor-length white embossed organza cloth and

Palms were used throughout the room and the guest tables were laid with white linen cloths and held centerpieces of fall flowers and sheaves of wheat.

Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. John Schermerhorn, Wawaka, Ind.; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brostrand, Mr. Roger Tracy, Miss Cathie Miller, Mr. Todd Edenrie, all of Miami; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Quick, Mr. and Mrs. Hector Escamille, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Galsky, all of Boynton Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Alex Barboni, Jupiter; Mr. and Mrs. Allan Richmond, Plantation; Mr. and Mrs. Don Tedder, Carrollton, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Tait, Mr. and Mrs. David Cooper, all of North Palm Beach;

Cosmetics change tone for fall

"Peruvian Gold," the new cosmetics look for fall, is the cosmetics industry's answer to the "running-wild" color challenge from the textile industry, according to Mrs. Virginia Anderson, owner-manager of Merle Norman Cosmetics-Town & Country Clothing Store.

"Pastels will still be around, but they'll be in smoky tones of mauve, peach and dusty rose," says Mrs. Anderson, "with shimmering iridescent glints of gold, copper, and silver subtle during the day and more dramatic in the evening."

"The new lip makeups are all gold-toned with co-ordinating nail colors in creamy bronzes and copper. The blushers are in frosted shades of tawny peach and burgundy to harmonize with either the copper or bronze makeups," Mrs. Anderson concluded.

Propositions

should be more responsive to their constituents. There is even the possibility of electing a representative directly from the Glades in virtually every election...something that can't be ignored.

Vote YES for Proposition 3!

PROPOSITION 4 abolishes the elected state cabinet, allowing the governor to elect his own cabinet members.

There is no way this revision could help the state's voters. It would only be an advantage to whoever occupies the governor's mansion. One corrupt governor, with a fiefdom of appointed cabinet members, could conceivably bankrupt the state and set up a machine powerful enough to get a stranglehold on state politics for years to come.

Vote NO on Proposition 4.

PROPOSITION 5 sets up a five-member appointed Public Service Commission. Here again, a far wiser course is to force accountability to the public on the PSC.

Granted, the legislature has already made the PSC an appointive board but a statute is much easier to overturn than a constitutional amendment.

Vote NO on Proposition 5!

Cornerstones

women much like you who enjoy hunting. And why do we enjoy it? That is something you cannot put a definite label upon. Perhaps it's an instinct as old as man, the highest of all forms of predators, still holds deep inside him.

I believe this instinct is there in all men and women to one degree or another. In some, it manifests itself in nothing more than enjoying a good detective show on television, which is really a form of "hunting". In others, it is more satisfying and finds expression in the red dawn of a new day, crouched in a blind overlooking a reed-filled pond as a wave of ducks descend toward the decoys.

We are all different, Mrs. Voerge, and I am thankful of that. I want just as much as you to be able to show my sons wildlife in its true, natural state.

And without hunters, it's doubtful I would be able to do so. It's doubtful that the detective show watchers will donate the money that is absolutely essential for habitat and wildlife protection.

Mrs. Voerge, that woman you mentioned who killed that bear out west was not glorifying in the murder of the bear. She was glorifying in the hunt and its satisfactions.

And though the hunt was bad for the bear, she killed as an individual, it was good for the species as a whole because its death allows the population of bears to remain within its habitat boundaries and for a stable number of bears to live out their lives and raise their young and perhaps even to expand their numbers. This is all possible because that woman paid for the hunt and the money she paid will be used for wildlife management and protection.

In years to come, that woman will look back on that picture of her and the bear and recall the cool crispness of being outdoors and the hundreds of animals she observed, but did not harm. And for her and millions of others, the natural conclusion of the hunt was the harvest of an animal.

PROPOSITION 6 would allow the state's 514 county and circuit judgeships to be filled by appointment with the voters voting every six years whether a judge should be retained by casting a "yes" or "no" ballot.

While it's normally desirable to keep public officials accountable directly to the people, judges fall into a special category. The average layperson has no way of deciding whether an attorney is qualified to become a jurist, a fact reflected in the number of incumbent judges who run unopposed for re-election.

On the other hand, should the people decide a particular judge isn't performing up to par, they retain the ability to turn him out of office, a factor missing in most appointive positions.

Vote YES on Proposition 6!

PROPOSITION 7, Like the first proposal, is a grab bag of 22 changes and/or additions to the existing constitution. This proposition deals only with tax and finance matters, however.

Like the first proposition, some of the changes are good and some not so good. The same logic applies here as in the so-called omnibus package.

Vote NO on Proposition 7!

PROPOSITION 8 establishes a nine-member State Board of Education appointed by the governor and a commissioner of education appointed by the state board; establishes the University Board of Regents as a constitutional body with total control over the state university system.

The advantages of having a board of education made up of professional educators are heavily outweighed by the disadvantages of having them appointed by the governor.

The existing method of having the governor and the cabinet sit as the board of education could probably be improved on also, perhaps by having the board either elected directly by the public or even having a separate board, made up of a single member appointed by each member of the cabinet, the president of the senate and the house speaker.

But even the existing system is better than having the entire board appointed by one man. At least the cabinet members are directly elected.

Vote NO on Proposition 8!

PROPOSITION 9 is the well-known "Casino Gambling" amendment.

There probably isn't a voter in the state who hasn't been exposed to most, if not all, the arguments for or against this issue. To many, it's a moral question and those people will have already made up their minds one way or another.

But as a practical point, despite objections to the contrary, it's a known fact that wherever casino gambling flourishes in or near the United States, there also flourishes active organized crime. We don't need more of that in this state.

Vote NO on Proposition 9!

Candidates

years. He deserves the chance to complete it.

COMMISSIONER OF EDUCATION: Again, RALPH TURLINGTON, the incumbent, has been doing a good job in his term as head man in the state's educational system. We're for keeping him.

FLORIDA SENATE: DISTRICT 28: Democrat incumbent HARRY A. JOHNSTON gets the nod for his experience and voting record over the past six years. He has an attractive opponent in William S. Riker and hopefully Riker won't let this kill his political aspirations. He could have been the pick in any one of several other races.

DISTRICT 28: DON CHILDERS has built up a formidable record in his first six year term. He was sponsor of several pieces of legislation which has changed the way things are done in Florida, largely for the better. One of those bills which are now law set up the state-wide functional literacy exercises in public high schools. Let's keep him.

FLORIDA HOUSE:

DISTRICT 78 features another pair of attractive candidates in Ray Liberti and Frank Messersmith. Both are young and both already have public service experience. Liberti with the county's Land Use Planning unit and Messersmith with the Sheriff's Office.

While neither of the two men have held an elective office, both will probably wind up in elective offices before their tales are told.

Liberti, however, has the edge on Messersmith right now for election to the state house so far as experience goes. His family is involved in agriculture and he understands growers, their problems and, above all, that you can't plan land use without allowing for agriculture.

DISTRICT 79: This was one of the easy ones. REID MOORE has the experience in the state house of representatives and anyone who reads the record knows Moore has voted consistently in the interests of agriculture when the chips were down.

DISTRICT 80: Another easy choice. Even though Carol Roberts was his boss when she was a city commissioner and Jim Watt was the West Palm Beach City Attorney, Watt seems to be much more knowledgeable about the issues and is certainly more in line with the thinking of farmers than is Mrs. Roberts, who includes the campaign promise of getting collective bargaining rights for farm workers.

JIM WATT was the easy choice here.

DISTRICT 81 is another race where voters have to make the choice between experience and an attractive newcomer to politics. In this case, the nod will have to go to ED HEALEY, a veteran representative and former chairman of the Palm Beach Legislative Delegation.

While Healey may have made some unpopular decisions during his tenure, he has listened to reason in the past and there is no reason to believe he won't continue to do so.

Again, we would hope Robert Nichols won't stop at this attempt and would come back to the voters again in the future, but until he has scrapped his idea of polling the public once a week to see how he should vote on every issue.

DISTRICT 82 No question, when a voter matches ANITA MITCHELL up against Gene Campbell. Both are experienced in their own ways but Mrs. Mitchell's positive-thinking campaign and her belief in the free enterprise system and individual initiative make her the better choice.

DISTRICT 83: There isn't even a contest here. TOM LEWIS has been the best representative the Glades ever had in recent years. He's been instrumental in the development of SR80, cutting red tape on several occasions to get work done, in getting jury trials moved to the Glades and in opening up elections to the public in the Palm Beach-Broward Soil and Water Conservation District.

TOM LEWIS is the easy pick.

COUNTY COMMISSION: DISTRICT 2 This is still another case of an experienced politician facing off against an attractive newcomer. The nod goes to FRANK FOSTER on grounds of experience, both in West Palm Beach as a city commissioner and liaison with the county commission, and his knowledge of the Glades area.

Again, however, we would hope Marshall Sade doesn't stop his involvement at a county-wide level with this one election. We like the way he thinks in virtually every issue except one, his adamant stance that he isn't ready to give "a dime" of the beach and park bond issue money to anything but acquisition.

Vote for FRANK FOSTER in District 2.

DISTRICT 4: We have to go with BILL MEDLEN in this one. His experience in the past term and the way he has worked with Commissioner Bill Bailey to the benefit of the Glades area can't be ignored.

SCHOOL BOARD DISTRICT 5 No doubt in this race either. SUSAN PELL has done her homework and is probably the most qualified candidate to run for the school board in any district in too many years to remember.

Mrs. Pell has never run for an elective position of any kind but she has an unbelievable amount of experience considering she isn't a professional. She has served on committees exploring the Adult Performance Level Test and a special two mill bond issue. She instituted a tutoring program and she's been involved as the parent of three children.

Vote for SUSAN PELL.

PORT OF PALM BEACH DISTRICT 4: JAMES KIMBERLY of Palm Beach is the pick for this job. He has experience in policy decisions in a number of ports around the world and should fight right in to his job here.

districts to give them guidance in a number of issues.

Healey said he has been noticing a rise in the number of people who get involved only in one issue, however, "and that alarms me. They don't care if you're a thief so long as you agree with them on their one issue and even then it's not always a yes or no thing."

"One of those types of issues was brought up by E.W. 'Bud' Weaver when he asked the two legislators how they feel about backpumping, saying people on the coast think of backpumping as one thing while people in the Glades think of it in a different light."

"They're thinking about not polluting Lake Okechobee," he said, "but we know we can't just keep firing it up in the air until it evaporates."

"I'd rather eat," Healey said. "You have to look at the problem with an eye to what's best for the most people. I think about what people can work things out."

Johnston said the problem is that local newspapers, the Florida Wildlife Federation, "and I'll be the hit man; Johnny Jones don't understand backpumping. We've had backpumping here since time began."

He went on to say he favors leaving backpumping, and water permitting, to the South Florida Water Management District and pointed out that WMD Executive Director John Maloy has gone to bat a number of times and attempted to explain backpumping.

Johnston said it might be a good idea for growers to host a meeting with members of the press and the Florida Wildlife Federation and attempt to get across to them the need for backpumping.

When Tom Seaman asked why the nine propositions to amend the state constitution which will be on the ballot couldn't be written in language more readily understood, Johnston said the public is generally captive to the newspapers, "and that bothers me."

He explained eight of the propositions had been written by the Constitutional Revision Commission and agreed that most of them are hard to read.

"I've already disagreed with some lawyer friends of mine on what Revision 11 will do to our grand jury system," he said. Both the candidates also agreed they were not in favor of giving farmworker unions any further legislative aid in organizing against farmers.

Healey said he has become convinced since 1974 that any further collective bargaining laws for farm workers should be on a federal rather than a state level.

Johnston agreed, saying easier collective bargaining laws in the state would prestage an influx of workers to Florida which could collapse the agricultural industry.

Flu shots available

The Palm Beach County Health Department has received limited quantities of influenza vaccine. This vaccine should offer substantial protection against three strains of influenza virus that were prevalent last year and are expected to occur again this year. The vaccines are recommended for individuals 65 years of age or older and individuals of all ages with severe chronic disease (Heart disease, Lung disease, Diabetes, and Kidney disease).

Presently, the Health Department does not have vaccine for high risk children under the age of 13. For adolescents between the ages of 13 and 18 the Health Department will require a note from their private physicians as to the need for their receiving the immunization. Individuals 26 or older will need only one dose of vaccine. Individuals under the age of 26 will need to take a second dose approximately 4-6 weeks after the first immunization. Persons who presently have an illness with fever, are pregnant, or have multiple sclerosis or Guillain-Barre syndrome should consult their physician for specific recommendations.

The vaccine program will be initiated between the hours of 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. on Monday, October 30, at the following locations: Belle Glade Health Center, 1024 Northwest Avenue "D", Belle Glade 996-1600; Jupiter Health Center, 6405 Indian Road, Jupiter; Northeast County Health Center, 1500 West 8th Street, Riviera Beach; Central Office, 826 Evernia Street, West Palm Beach, 837-3000; Lake Worth Shuffelbarger Courts, 1121 Lucerne Avenue, Lake Worth;

Southeast County Health Center, 345 South Congress Avenue, Delray Beach, 272-9700.

The program will continue on a daily basis until the vaccine is exhausted.

Glades Day edges Westminister 17-16

WINSTON BYRD is brought to earth by a Westminister defender as another rushes to assist him in the 17-16 Gator victory Saturday night.

BELLE GLADE—The Glades Day Gators advanced into a three-way tie and a sixth place ranking Friday when they thrilled their hometown crowd with a 17-16 squeaker over Ft. Lauderdale Westminister.

The game-winning point was earned in the first quarter when tackle Kenny Strickland bulled through the line to block a Westminister point after attempt.

The Gators are now tied for first place in District 79A with Westminister and Benjamin. Westminister had been ranked sixth in the state Single A poll, but dropped out of the rankings and left Glades Day in that spot following the win.

In the first quarter, the Gators received but were forced to punt, then held Westminister who punted back to them. The first break of the game came when the Gators fumbled the punt and set the stage for a Westminister drive beginning from the 50.

Westminister got down to the 11, then called on their star running back, Jon Kroll, to do the honors. On the point after try, Strickland blocked the kick.

The Gators came back with only 11 seconds remaining in the quarter and got on the board with a 24-yard field goal booted by Mark Foster.

But Westminister was not to be shut out and got their own field goal after the Gators fumbled on their own 15 just before the second half. The three points made the score 9-3 in favor of Westminister. Following their, a Westminister fumble on their 40, set up a drive by the Gators that was capped when Nacho Bueno dove over from the one. Foster's PAT put the Gators ahead for the first time in the game 10-9. The fumble recovery that set up the score was made by Benton Tyson.

But later in the same quarter, the visitors regained the lead when they punted to the Gators, then recovered a Gator fumble on the 15.

It took three plays to put them on the scoreboard and the extra point gave Westminister a 16-10 lead.

The Gators put together a drive of their own and advanced down to the five where Jason Shelton ran over for six points. That tied matters up at 16-all but Foster's kick gave the Gators a one-point advantage that they hung onto the remainder of the game.

The fourth quarter was a give and take situation with the Gators ending it by holding off a strong Westminister rally.

Westminister had moved down to the Gator nine by the last play of the game, helped along by a pair of pass interference calls on fourth and long situations.

But a quarterback sneak attempt for a first down failed and the clock ran out on their hopes.

"They were the best team we played all year," said Coach Walker. He noted that while all three district leaders have one remaining conference game each and "anything can happen" it now appears the championship will be decided by a vote of the school's principals.

"Westminister would be a good representative of the district if the voting goes their way," he said. Shelton was the leading ground gainer for the Gators, getting 104 yards altogether but Walker noted Winston Byrd also had a good game. "Byrd was running real well," he said.

Stuath Steve Richie was injured early in the first quarter with strained ankle ligaments and Jason Shelton went out later with bruised kidneys.

The injuries hurt the defense and Walker said defensively it was the worst game the Gators have played this season, especially from the standpoint of penalties.

The outstanding defensive player was Nacho Bueno, who was plugged into the defensive half-back slot after it was vacated through an injury. "It was Nacho's first time in the position and he did a good job," said Walker.

Walker said the Gators will face no opponents this week, having an open date, but he will be working with them on their passing game. "We missed four touchdowns because the receivers were over-thrown Friday night," he said. "And one pass was dropped in the end zone. They could have made a big difference in the game and we'll be working to correct that."

On defense, Walker singled out Mark Foster as having done an especially good job, getting two quarterback sacks and knocking down a couple of passes.

"Our secondary had a bad first half," he said, "but we made some

Crusaders beat cross-town rivals

BELLE GLADE—Christian Day's revitalized football team defeated their cross-town rivals, the Glades Day Junior Varsity, in a double overtime 12-6 Thursday.

The Crusaders were first on the board when in the first quarter Kent Davis rambled over from the five. The touchdown was set up by a blocked Gator punt the Crusaders recovered on the Gator ten.

No other scoring was done in the game until the last quarter when Scott Meredith evened the game at six all for a four yard run. The run capped a 50 yard drive.

This threw the game into an overtime, but the Crusaders held off on a goal line stand a strong Gator attack, and it went into a double overtime.

In this second overtime, Arnold Quesada passed eight yards to Bill Taylor to win the game for the Crusaders.

Crusader coach Ken Lassiter said he was disappointed in the number of penalties and mental mistakes his inexperienced charges committed.

"Every time we would get a drive going," he said, "it would be halted by penalties. I was proud of the team, however, when they refused to give up ground during that goal line stand."

He singled out Kent Davis as the leading offensive player. Davis carried 25 times for 171 yards and would have had over 200 yards if several long gainers had not been called back because of penalties. Taylor had three receptions during the evening, two for first downs and the other for a touchdown.

On defense for the Crusaders, Steve Woods led with seven tackles and three assists followed by Gene Bair with six and one and Tony Duboy, who had two, both coming during the overtime and preventing possible scores.

Gator coach Dick Schmidt said Roy Cameron was his leading gainer with 46 yards followed by Scott Meredith with 31.

On defense, Todd Humphrey and Tod Kroesen both gathered in interceptions while Richard Schiele led the pack with eight tackles. Julio Rivas had six tackles and four assists and Kroesen tackled on five with three assists.

Schmidt said his team "hung in there" and did not give up, driving the game to a tie in the fourth quarter.

He said the overtime pass touchdown was a "well executed play" on the part of the Crusaders. "I'm proud of the way the Gators played," said Schmidt. "All the kids did a good job."

The win boosted the Crusaders to a 2-4 record and dropped the Gators to 1-4.

Christian Day will play a varsity matchup with Broward Christian Saturday at home beginning at 3 p.m. The two teams met earlier in the year with Broward winning 8-0. The Gator JV will host Kings Academy at 7:30 Thursday night.

First defeat of year

Raiders are beaten

BELLE GLADE—A last ditch attempt to force the game into overtime after the clock had run out failed Friday as the Glades Central Raiders lost their first game on the field to unbeaten Suncoast, 13-10.

The final failure came on an attempted field goal, following a Suncoast penalty on the last play during regular time, which went low and wide but hearts were stopped on at least three occasions in the two minutes before Alonzo Butts booted the ball off target.

Trailing the Chargers into the halftime by a score of 13-3, the Raiders finally managed to post a touchdown with six minutes left in the game on a Terry Hammond pass which threaded the needle for 15 yards between Charger defenders to find Gred Bain deep in the end zone.

Wilford Morgan's kick was good and when the Chargers turned the ball over after the kickoff, the fireworks really began.

The Raiders took possession of the ball near midfield and drove to the Suncoast five yard line on runs by Archie Godfrey and Johnny Rowe and a pass to Bain for Rowe lost the ball on a fumble with four minutes left in the game.

Charger quarterback James Johnson ignored his lethal passing partner, Anthony Carter and played it safe by sticking to the ground, pounding out yardage against a stiff Raider defense which finally recaptured the ball on a fumble near the Charger 35-yard stripe.

Nathaniel Stinson erupted from a densely packed group of players with the ball and sprinted into the end zone on the hotly contested play while players and officials argued with each other on whether the play ended in a fumble or a dead ball.

The officials finally decided there had been a fumble but

First half woes are resolved; Pahokee easily handles LaBelle

LABELLE—Ronnie Osborne and Stafford Everett each ran for two touchdowns to put the Pahokee Blue Devils over the LaBelle Cowboys in LaBelle, 24-6.

LaBelle's first half performance kept Pahokee fans wondering if the Blue Devils could win the match, even though Pahokee controlled the ball most of the first quarter and scored its first touchdown on a 63-yard pass from Osborne to Everett. The extra point kick attempt failed.

LaBelle tied the score midway during the second quarter on an 8-yard pass from Jeff Burton to Robbie Hall, but their extra point kick failed also.

LaBelle's glimmer of hope came immediately after that score when an on-side kick caught the Blue Devils by surprise. After the scramble LaBelle came up with the ball on about the Blue Devil 40.

However the Cowboys could not capitalize on that advantage, even though they worked the ball within two or three yards of the Pahokee goal line.

Twice the LaBelle team tried to get around the Blue Devil defense before running out of downs and time at the end of the first half.

LaBelle's failure to convert their final first half drive into a score proved to be the turning point in the game. Pahokee held back all other LaBelle offensive drives during the second half and scored three more times before the game was over.

Two of those scores were made by Blue Devil quarterback Osborne. The first occurred in the third quarter on a 46-yard sprint; the second occurred early in the fourth quarter on a 12-yard run. Both extra point attempts failed.

Blue Devil Everett made Pahokee's final score later in the fourth quarter on a 25-yard pass from Osborne.

According to coach Bob Crooms of LaBelle, Osborne's quickness and Everett's pass receiving talent proved to be too much for the Cowboys' second half defense.

"I thought we played a fine first half," he said. "But we got tired and something happened to us in the second half."

Pahokee coach Antoine Russell said the Blue Devils had to switch from a running game to a passing game after the former strategy didn't work well against the Cowboys.

"We were working on a running game," he said. "But the closer we got to scoring, the more trouble we had."

Russell said the Blue Devils made LaBelle look "better than they were" the first half, and that the intense defensive efforts put forth near the end of the first half helped to turn the game around.

Statistically, Sam Owens led the Blue Devils with 106 of Pahokee's 198 running yards. Osborne's two touchdowns runs, and his two passes to Everett for two more scores made him the team's offensive leader.

Defensively, Frank Walker, Osborn Edwards and Larry Barnes led the team with the most tackles.

"Clint Wilson was good on the defensive line," Russell said.

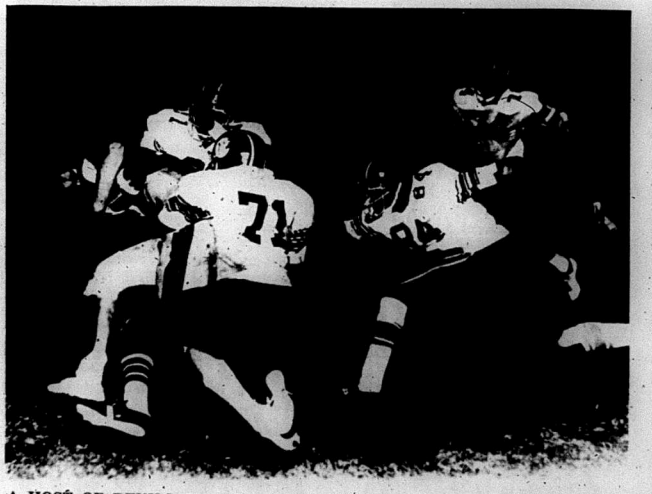

Friday the Blue Devils will take on the Jupiter Warriors in their homecoming game.

"We have to pay Jupiter back," Russell said, noting that last year that team defeated Pahokee worse than any other.

Russell was optimistic, however, explaining that the Blue Devils do not play any easy teams.

The one thing Pahokee will have to watch out for this year is Jupiter's 6-foot-5, 240-pound fullback, he said.

Pahokee's win-loss record is now 5-2, and the team is No. 2 in Suncoast conference standings.

A HOST OF DEVILS pounce on a lone Cowboyl ball carrier in Friday night's game against LaBelle. Running in for the tackle are Frank Walker (71), Osmond Edwards

(84), Lonnie Pendergrass (74) and Andre Water (31 - numerals partially hidden)

AVOIDING A CHARGER. Raider quarterback Terry Hammond scrambles in his game-winning touchdown. own backfield during the final minute of disallowed Stinson's race to paydirt.

Shortly after that, Hammond drilled a long pass into coffin corner. The pass was incomplete but an official ruled pass interference but called the ball back to the Charger 30 with no time left on the clock, giving the Raiders one more chance.

That was when Coach Ben McCoy sent in Butts to attempt the field goal, which would have sent the game into sudden death overtime.

Earlier in the game, Wilford Morgan had kicked a 46 yard field goal, giving the Raiders their only score in the first half and closing the scoring gap to 7-3 in the second quarter.

The Chargers initially took the lead in the first quarter on a 10 yard touchdown pass from Johnson to Anthony Carter. After Morgan's field goal, Ricardo Griffin extended Suncoast's lead to 13-3 in a three yard run.

That proved to be sufficient and the Chargers never relinquished their lead in the game. Griffin accounted for 42 of Suncoast's total of 54 yards rushing.

Glades Central dominated the game statistically, outplaying the Chargers everywhere but on the scoreboard. Ace running back Johnny Rowe carried the ball 20 times for 136 yards, more than twice Suncoast's total of 54 yards and Terry Hammond passed for 125 yards compared to Johnson's total of 91 yards.

Other Glades runners pushed the total rushing yardage up to 217 yards for the team but the difference came when the Raiders carried the ball under the shadow of the Charger goalposts on three occasions without scoring.

Archie Godfrey carried 16 times for 81 yards and caught a pass for another 36 yards.

Bain caught five of nine passes thrown his way for 79 yards, including the 15-yard TD play. Jeff Henderson caught another pass for ten yards.

On defense, Willie Gibson led the Raiders with six tackles and Chris Ellick and Randy Burden each made four tackles and three assists.

The Raiders' last home game is Friday, when they kick off at 8 p.m. against Martin County. The Tigers shocked the Fort Pierce Central Cobras last Friday night with a 22-21 win in the last six seconds of a Class AAAA Suncoast East game.

corrections during halftime and shut down their passing attack.

Walker said Westminister made most of their gains on mistakes committed by the Gators. "They didn't move the ball conveniently on us. But everytime we got the ball, we moved it."

Statistically, the Gators had more first down than Westminister fumbled twice, giving up one.

The win boosted the Gators to a 7-1 record and dropped Westminister to the same. Benjamin, the other team in the three-way tie for the district championship, has an identical record.

Johnston tells Rotary no new tax hikes

BELLE GLADE—Although the state can use it, there will be no tax increase during the 1979 term of the legislature, Senator Harry Johnston told the Belle Glade Rotary Club Tuesday.

"I've never seen so many fiscal conservatives as I've seen in this campaign," he said.

Johnston went on to say the state is run on a sound fiscal basis and is one of only four states in the country without a personal income tax.

He noted the Constitution at present prohibits the tax and that Florida also does not assess taxes for gifts or inheritance. The constitution also does not allow deficit spending so the legislature must balance the budget each year.

Johnston acknowledged that there is waste in the state government. "In any organization with a $6 billion budget, you'll find waste," he said.

But though he predicts no new taxes or tax increases, he said people need to "belly up" to the increasing costs of government and if they continue to demand the services government provides, they will have to bear the cost.

Among the vital services that will be costing more are the prison system, compensatory education, mental health programs, roads, and state employee salaries.

Johnston said the state's secondary road system is ten years behind the times and that state employees are not being paid on the same level as people in private industry.

"We are a law and order state," he noted, "but Florida is under court order to construct prisons to house the inmate population." Florida now has more prisoners per capita than any state in the union.

He said it costs more to house an inmate for a year than to send him to the Harvard Law School, but this is an immediate need in the state.

"This is what faces us each year when we arrive in Tallahassee," said Johnston. "The pressure is on us to increase taxes, not to hold the line."

The most effective lobbyists in Tallahassee, he noted, are the state employees, who demand more money each year.

"Most of my constituents are fiscally conservative," said Johnston. "They all say don't raise my taxes but..." Johnston noted the laws for the "but" and that everybody wants more money for some program or other.

"I could scratch each of you and find something you want government to do for you," said Johnston. Farmers want more pest control, doctors more health programs, senior citizens more low income housing, in short, everybody wants something but nobody wants increased taxes.

Proposition 13 will not work in Florida, said Johnston, because it is not the state who assesses property taxes. These taxes are levied by drainage districts, schools, cities and counties. Florida also has a millage cap and substantial exemption programs for homeowners and the elderly.

"But what Proposition 13 has done," he said, "is twofold." It has made state employees accountable and required them to be more responsive to the people they serve and it has shown people that they do indeed have something to say about the destiny of their government.

As for a tax cut, Johnston told the Rotarians that if they wanted one, they should have the "moral courage to tell us what services you want cut."

In response to questions, Johnston went over the list of proposed constitutional revisions, saying how he personally would probably vote on each.

He said his stand for Revision 2, or the "Little ERA" is not a popular one, but said it was his stand anyway and went on to explain that he believes discrimination in the workplace because of sex exists and that the revision would go a long way toward its elimination.

Johnston said he did not feel that by adding the word "sex" into the declaration of rights that homosexuals would be allowed to marry because the marriage contract clearly states the contract to be valid only between a "man and a woman" and that it has been tested in court and proven valid.

Johnston is the incumbent candidate for State Senate, 26th District.

BELLE GLADE HAS BECOME a popular stop-over for political hopefuls, especially around noontime during local civic association meetings. The quality of the food could be one of the biggest attractions. Tuesday, Rotary president Earle McCroan welcomed candidates Carolyn Roberts and Ed Healey.

Sample Ballots mailed

Every registered voter in Palm Beach County will be receiving a sample ballot mailed by the Office of the Supervisor of Elections. In order to save money the sample ballots will be mailed on per household of registered voters. The sample ballot which each voter receives will show only the issues and candidate to be voted on in this precinct. Voters are urged to become informed on all the candidates and issues on the ballot before going to the polls. They may mark their sample ballots and take them to the polling place with them. However, in the polling place the voter should be careful not to display his marked sample ballot so that others might be able to see and possibly be influenced by his selections.

Rowe hearing set for Saturday

BELLE GLADE—A hearing on two appeals of a decision made Oct. 10 by the Florida High School Activities Association (FHSAA) to forfeit Glades Central's first two football games will be held Saturday by the FHSAA Executive Committee.

FHSAA Executive Secretary Floyd Lay notified West Palm Beach Attorney T.J. Cunningham and West Area Supervisor of Education H.W. "Dick" Berryman this week of the Saturday hearing.

Cunningham is representing Rowe's father, Sgt. John L. Rowe and his grandmother, Mrs. Janie Rowe of 300 NW 11th St. Rowe is now residing with Mrs. Rowe.

The Oct. 10 ruling was made by the FHSAA Executive Committee on grounds Rowe was ineligible because he hadn't lived with his grandmother for a full calendar year before playing for the Raiders.

He was declared eligible to play the last seven games of the season, however, because of "extenuating circumstances."

Cunningham appealed the ruling last week, arguing it was in violation of the "Federal Soldier and Sailor Relief Act." The federal act preempts any state law concerning soldiers or sailors.

Berryman had also written a letter to Lay appealing the decision.

Because of the ruling, Glades Central was forced to forfeit the first two games, a 21-6 win over Atlantic High and a 28-6 win over Jupiter High.

The forfeit to Atlantic, unless it is reversed, will give the District 14AAA championship to Atlantic. The championship belongs to the Raiders if the FHSAA reverses its ruling and Glades Central would go to the state playoffs for the first time since 1974.

Should the Raiders go to the playoffs, their first game will be against Suncoast High School, the 13-10 victor over the Raiders in last Friday night's game.

A reverse would also improve the school's official record from the 4-3 it now has to the 6-1 record it has earned on the field.

Raider thinclads are fourth

LAKE WORTH—Glades Central cross country runners placed fourth out of a field of 14 schools last week in the annual Palm Beach County Championship meet held at John Prince Park here.

Two Raiders placed in the top ten. There were 92 cross country runners.

The first Glades Central runner to place was Robert O'Neal, who was fourth with a time of 18:06 for the three miles. Willie Tyler placed ninth with a time of 16:31. O'Neal was given a medal for being in the top six runners.

Other Raider runners in the event were Richard Ford, who placed 24th with a time of 17:10, Patrick Raymond who placed 32nd with a time of 17:34, and Bobby Brereton, who placed 45th with a time of 17:54. Renard Bennett was 77th.

Levell Moreland placed second out of 63 runners in the Palm Beach County Freshman Championship, according to coach Willie McDonald. His time was 11:52 for the two mile run.

In the Girls Palm Beach County Championship, Mary West placed fifth in the junior varsity race with a time of 14:12 for a two mile run.

Sheila Ashley placed 15th with a time of 15:45.

In the girls varsity championship, Rose Wilkerson placed 49th with a time of 15:14 for the two mile run and Jackie Thomas placed 62nd with a time of 17:45.

Rotary to hold annual turkey shoot

The committee decided to give away turkeys of ten to 12 pounds again this year and to have .410 gauge shoots for the kids.

Emergency deer hunt set

TALLAHASSEE—An emergency antlerless deer hunt was approved Friday by the Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission for the 29,000-acre Rotenberger Wildlife Management Area in Palm Beach County.

"It appears an emergency situation is developing on the Rotenberger Area this year," said Col. Robert M. Brantly, Commission executive director. "Abnormally high water levels, coupled with high deer densities, are responsible for the problem. An antlerless deer hunt is necessary in order to salvage the deer that will otherwise die from acute parasitism caused by these conditions."

The Commission's West Palm Beach Regional Office will accept antlerless hunt requests from Oct. 30 through Nov. 7. On Nov. 8, a drawing will be held and 200 individuals will be selected from the hunt which will run from Nov. 14 through Nov. 19.

In a related action, the Commission voted not to open the Rotenberger Area to motorized equipment, including off-road vehicles and airboats, on Nov. 11 when the general hunting season begins because of additional stress vehicles could place on the deer population.

The Commissioners also approved: spring gopher hunts scheduled for March 14-15, 21-22 and 28-29, 1979, on the Camp Blanding Wildlife Management Area. A quota of 40 hunters will be permitted for each hunt which will be limited to shotguns, bows and muzzleloader weapons.

A change in the regulations for the J.W. Corbett Wildlife Management Area permitting the use of vehicles and dogs in a 2,000-acre walk-in area. Camping would also be permitted there, adjacent to designated roads.

The taking of one hog per vehicle on the last day of the 1978-79 general hunting season in Conservation Area 3 of the Everglades Wildlife Management Area.

The Winning Team

Jack Eckerd and Paula Hawkins have pledged no new taxes for Florida.

That's important. Because Jack's opponent Bob Graham has voted for higher taxes time after time while he was in the State Legislature. Graham voted for more taxes on farm equipment, recreational vehicles, feed, seed and fertilizer. He voted for a hunting and fishing license tax, an increase in the sales tax, even a cemetery fee tax.

Floridians don't need Bob Graham's tax and spend philosophy.

Vote Eckerd-Hawkins, they'll put the lid on taxes.

Local woman to conduct poll for NBC News in Belle Glade

BELLE GLADE—A secret sampling of voters and how they voted and why will be conducted in Belle Glade during the general election Tuesday.

Mrs. Esther Walker will conduct a poll of every third voter at the Lakeshore Center precinct and will be one of the NBC workers scattered across Florida, but the only one in the Glades.

The questionnaire she will hand out asks 30 questions on a variety of topics, including the performance of the president in office, what issues Congress should act upon first, how the voter cast his ballot in the last election, the best ways to fight inflation, whether or not teachers and police should be allowed to strike, and many others.

"These ballots will be secret," said Mrs. Walker. "Voters will not put their names on them and they will be tallied and called into the NBC news center and the results given on the 11:00 news."

Mrs. Walker asked the cooperation of voters who will be asked to fill out the questionnaires.

City will handle Jubilee finances

BELLE GLADE—The city will handle Black Gold Jubilee finances for the first annual celebration Mar. 22-23, 1979 in the wake of a mutual decision that there would be no problems.

The question came up last Thursday during the Black Gold Jubilee Committee meeting when Committee Chairman Dolly Hand asked Mayor Tom Altman if there would be any objections to the city handling the committee account.

Altman initially answered he felt the city would probably rather make a single disbursement and a single collection but when City Finance Director Frank Anderson was called in, he said he didn't think there would be any problems in the city opening a special account for the committee.

Mrs. Hand said she still has paperwork to handle for the Bicentennial Committee and said she felt the city could handle it easier than appointing a treasurer and opening an account especially for the committee.

The committee also adopted the basic design for a seal to be used in connection with advertising and letterhead.

The design depicts a hand holding a black nugget with streaks of gold and vegetables and sugar cane. Written on the nugget are the words, "Black Gold Jubilee".

The seal adopted was one of several designed by members of the commercial arts class at Glades Central High School taught by Harry Bloomquist. The winning design was drawn by Barry L. Adley. The committee voted to send a letter of appreciation and to register the seal as the celebration's trademark.

In other action, the committee agreed to send a letter of appreciation to George Young, recognizing his wife, Edwina, for her contribution to the city's 50th anniversary celebration last year. Mrs. Young recently died.

The committee's next meeting is scheduled for Nov. 9.

Tom Lewis campaigns in Glades

PAHOKEE—State Rep. Tom Lewis flew in to Pahokee airport Tuesday as part of his final campaign efforts before election day.

Lewis was accompanied by Bob Allen, north county coordinator of Lewis' re-election campaign.

After distributing advertising to local media and taking a brief rest, Lewis flew on to the east coast where he did more campaigning and appeared on Channel 5 television at 5:45 p.m.

An avid aviation enthusiast, Lewis said Tuesday's visit made the fourth or fifth visit to the glades in the past month. Two weeks ago he participated in a campaign "fly-in" at Pahokee airport.

Before leaving, the North Palm Beach legislator took time to say he was going to continue working for resurfacing State Road 80 east of Belle Glade.

He explained that the milling (grinding down) of the surface of that road was just a preliminary step in its improvement, and that major work will begin after the local growing season is over. That work, he said, will include removing the pine trees from Belle Glade to 20-mile bend and then resurfacing the road.

Dealer defends farmers

Parity is not the solution to solving the farmers' problems, but reducing imports of foreign agricultural products is a step in the right direction, according to George Cooper, a South Florida agricultural equipment dealer.

Cooper, who recently purchased the implement dealership formerly called Lake Harvesting from owner Earl Stuart, spoke to the Pahokee Rotary Club at last Thursday's meeting.

Cooper explained that imports that affect farmers' income have been hard to fight in the past because "farmers don't organize well." They are independent and generally only organize when "they have their backs to the wall" on some issue. Such was the case of the farm strike several weeks ago. Recently, 12 farmers banded together to raise $125,000 to help pay off a $225,000 bill for a suit against Mexican imports, he said.

Cooper criticized labor unions, saying that they have pushed to cut off agriculture research and the emphasis towards mechanization. The mechanization of farms increases efficiency and sometimes reduces the number of laborers needed. Some unions, particularly United Farm Workers, are against that, he said.

Defining some other criticisms of farmers, Cooper noted that people put the blame on agriculture for high prices, even though prices paid to farmers can go down. As an example he cited the rise of sugar prices in the mid-1970s. The price sugar growers got temporarily went up, and businesses which used large amounts of sugar — such as soft drink companies — had to raise their prices. However, when the price paid to the sugar growers went down, few sugar consumers lowered their prices.

Despite the criticism, it is the farmer who takes all the risks and puts his money into agriculture, Cooper said.

At the onset of his presentation, Cooper told the Pahokee Rotarians that American farmers are the most successful in the world, and that the American public pays a smaller percentage of its income on food than do citizens of other countries.

He explained that less than four percent of the U.S. population feeds Americans and has enough to feed thousands of persons around the world. In contrast, about 25 percent of the Soviet Union's population farms, and imports are still needed to meet that country's food demand, he said.

The amount of money Americans spend on food is also significantly lower than the amount spent elsewhere. About 17 percent of each American's wages go to food, while that percentage in Western Europe is about 25, in Canada it is 20, in Eastern Europe it is 55 and in Asia it is about 80.
